VERIFICATION OF TAXABLE GRANT AND SCHOLARSHIP AID

On your 2023-2024 FAFSA, you and/or your parent(s) indicated that you had, "Taxable college grant and scholarship aid reported to the IRS in your adjusted gross income." There should only be an amount reported if you received grant or scholarship aid in excess of the costs of tuition, fees, and other course related expenses. Students generally do not need to report any aid as taxable income on their federal tax return.

Please check the appropriate box below:

- There was no grant or scholarship aid reported on the 2021 federal tax return and the information was reported on the FAFSA in error – I approve the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office to correct this information to $0 on my FAFSA.

OR

- There was grant or scholarship aid reported on the 2021 federal tax return for the student or parent. I have included the following documents to verify this information:
 - 2021 Tax Return(s), signed by the tax filer
